

Guide to APA 7th Edition References

All examples below are taken from the APA Publication Manual 7th edition. See Chapter 10 of this manual for more details and for types of sources not included below. Always read your assignment sheet and check with your professor for specific requirements for each assignment.

General Guidance for In-text Citations

The APA citation system uses the Author, Date citation style. Most citations begin with the last names of the authors or the authoring organization, followed by the year of publication. Past tense reporting verbs are generally favored by APA style (see Sections 4.13 and 4.14).

Direct quotes and paraphrases should also include the page number to help the reader locate the information. For phrases quoted from websites or other sources without page numbers, provide readers with another way to locate the passage, such as paragraph numbers, heading names, or other identifiers. For more information, see Section 8.28.

Multiple Authors

The rules for naming multiple authors have been revised for the APA 7th edition. For one or two authors, list all author names each time you refer to them. For three or more authors, list the first author's name followed by the phrase "et al." every time. See Section 8.17 for more information.

Author type	Parenthetical citation	Narrative citation
One author	(Luna, 2020)	Luna (2020) concluded...
Two authors	(Salas & D'Agostino, 2020)	Salas and D'Agostino (2020) concluded...
Three or more authors	(Martin et al., 2020)	Martin et al. (2020) concluded...
Group author with abbreviation	First citation: (National Institute of Mental Health [NIMH], 2020) Subsequent citations: (NIMH, 2020)	First citation: National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH, 2020) concluded... Subsequent citations: NIMH (2020) concluded...
Group author without abbreviation	(University of Washington, 2020)	University of Washington (2020) concluded...

Citing Multiple Works Parenthetically

Arrange multiple works alphabetically within parentheses (see Section 8.12). This organization reflects the citation order in your references list.

(Adams et al., 2019; Shumway & Shulman, 2015; Westinghouse, 2017)

Citing Secondary Sources

A secondary source refers to content first reported elsewhere, often in a primary source. When citing a secondary source, provide the primary source and its year (if known), then write “as cited in,” followed by the secondary source. In the references list, provide an entry for the secondary source (see Section 8.6).

(Rabbitt, 1982, as cited in Lyon et al., 2014)

Works with the Same Author and Same Date

If you are citing multiple works by the same authors published in the same year, include a lowercase letter (e.g., a) after the year (see Sections 8.19 and 9.47). Reference list citations must also include the letters after the year.

(Judge & Kammeyer-Mueller, 2012a; Judge & Kammeyer-Mueller, 2012b)

Templates

APA now includes generic templates for types of sources, many of which are reproduced below. If you cannot find a specific example of your source in this handout or in the APA manual, use the generic template of the type of source for guidance in creating your citation. APA editors also answer citation questions on their searchable blog, <https://apastyle.apa.org/blog>.
